Vassar Brothers Hospital
School of Nursing

In Dedication to Our Parents..

I always will remember

Your love

throughout the years,

Your care

for every need,

Your comfort

for my tears,

I'll remember your help

and inspiration,

And your guidance

on life's way—

Although I know

this debt is one

I never can repay,

I always will remember

All you've done

right from the start,

And love you

and be grateful

For it all

with all my heart.

To Miss Scerebini Some thoughts from your class . . .

Ever since desperately needed help was given in our Pharmacology course, a sense of mutual belonging, of our class and our advisor has existed. And these are our memories . . .

“Good morning” . . . an encouraging word . . . warm smile . . . “don’t look at the score, it’s the way you play that counts” . . . humility . . . gentility . . . compassion . . . honest confrontation . . . contagious laughter . . . a solitary figure in a white Lab coat strolling to the hospital . . . a holiday party . . . this is a woman who cannot be sketched by words nor stroked by oils . . . for she is her spirit . . . and it is this spirit that we recognize as reflecting that which is good and true and perhaps eternal . . . this woman is belief manifested by action . . . it is the absence of self-righteousness and hypocrisy and presence of sincere striving that evokes our love and admiration . . .

Her roommate . . . Miss Weisner . . . quietly giving sound advise . . . supporting our Basketball team . . . striving to make us good nurses rather than “just nurses” . . . always offering an outstretched hand . . .

To both . . . gratitude, admiration and a special kind of love . . . always, yes . . .

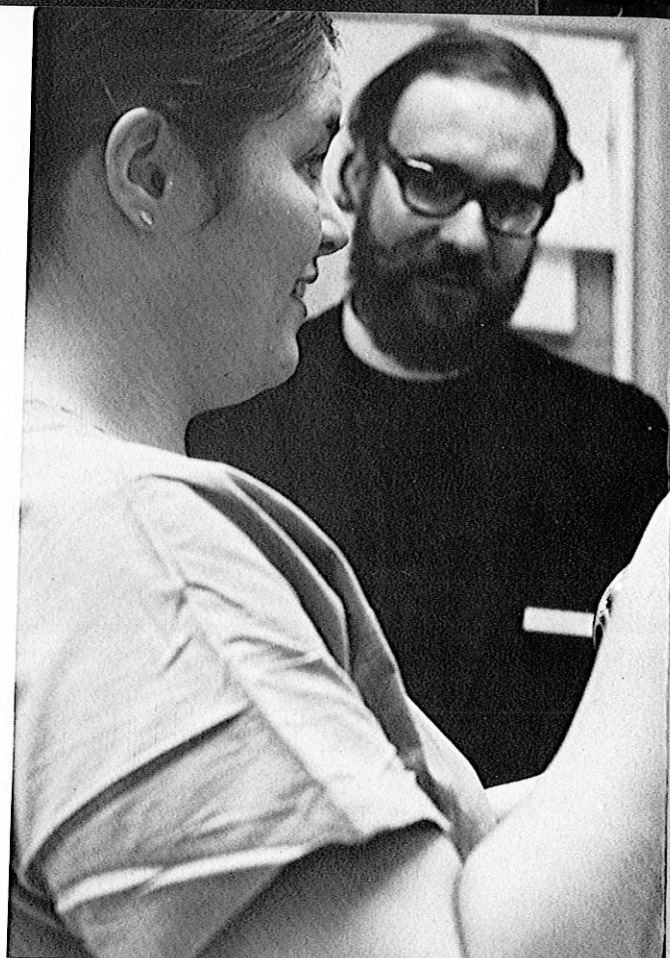

It was a warm, sunny September day, and as we unloaded our life's belongings and entered the doors of New Tower we glanced at the faces around us—classmates' faces, instructors' faces, parents' faces—smiling, frightened and caring.

If someone had but told us what this year would bring, we might have smiled politely and walked off silently to a place where we would have visions of Charlie Brown and Snoopy, to a place where we could dream our own dreams.

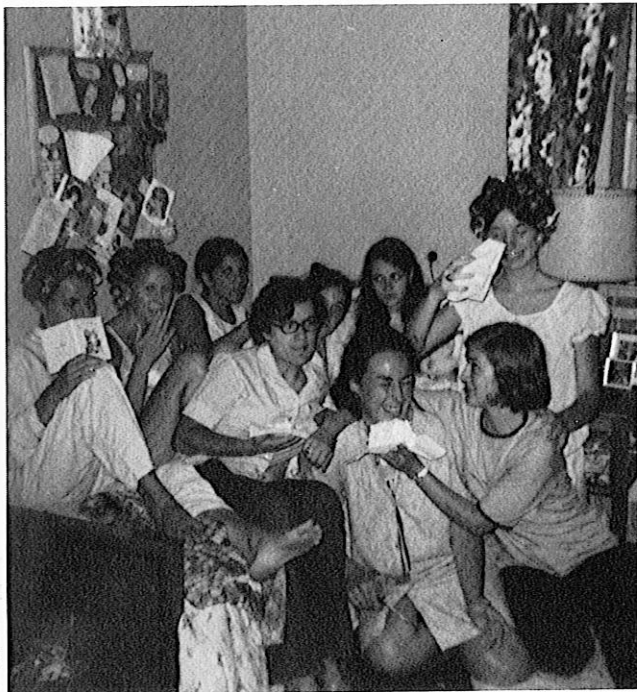

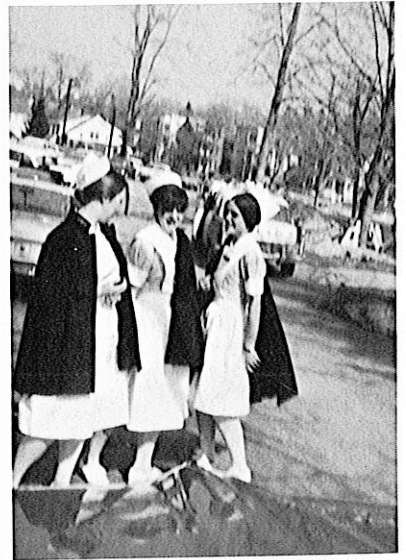

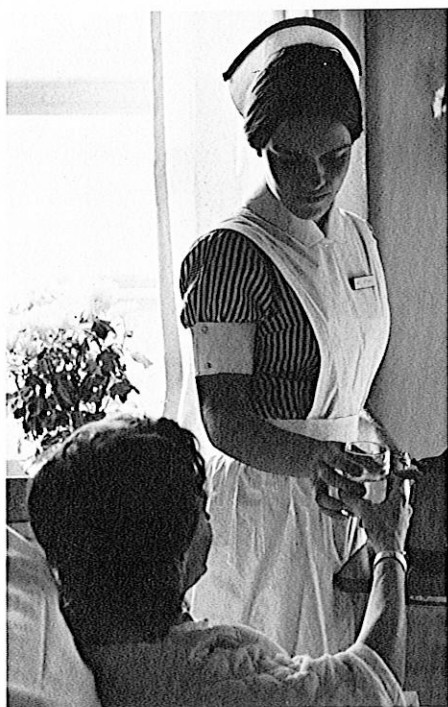

But without premonitions, we walked off one by one, dreaming our own dreams and here we met to turn our dreams into a world of questions with answers and questions without answers.

Our new world offered us ideas and Joe's pizza all at once. Our new world offered us each other.

We took what we wanted; we offered what we could.
And day by day we learned to live within each others dreams . . .

and then we saw the reality of it all—it took a while.

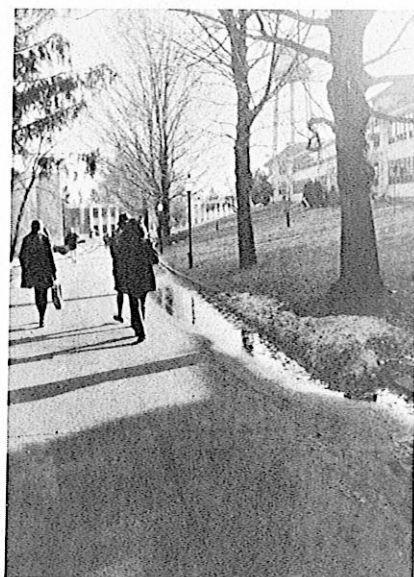

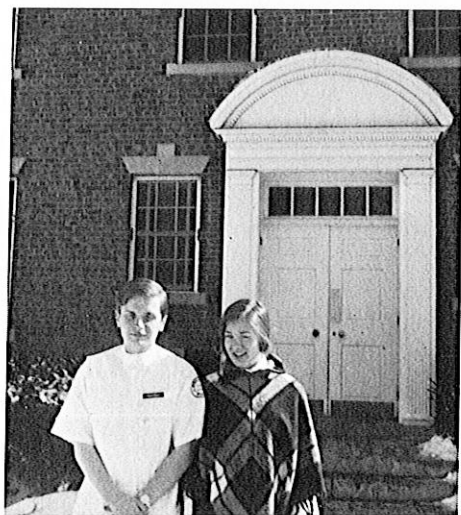

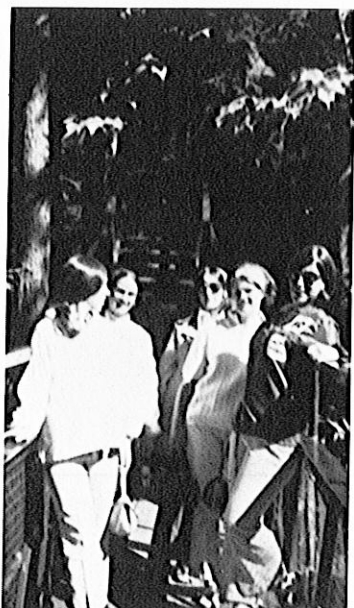

But we were here, you and I, laughing and crying tears, not half as bittersweet as we thought, and sharing the things that we had taken for ourselves.

We survived together our '69-'70 world through the long hot summer, our ambitious minds confused by fallen hopes, sighs, oh-wells, next year maybes—

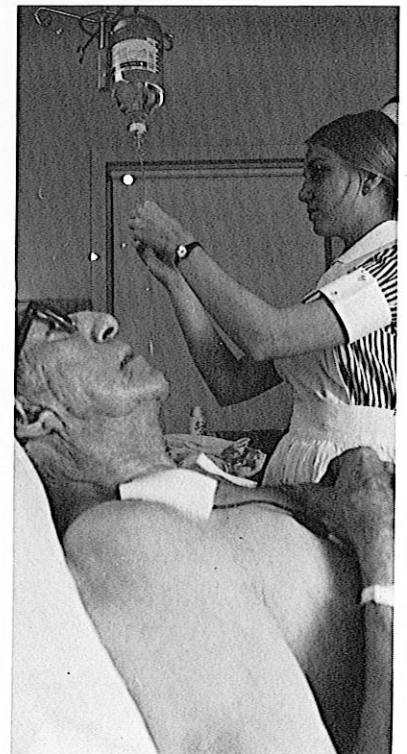

When autumn returned and we settled down once again with navy blue strips, striving to remember and relive those first dreams of last September.

As leaves began to fall more slowly we were faced with the closing of our school and we united together as a Senior class and as a concerned group fighting for what we believed in. Yet, we kept our differences, you and I. You were still you and I was myself.

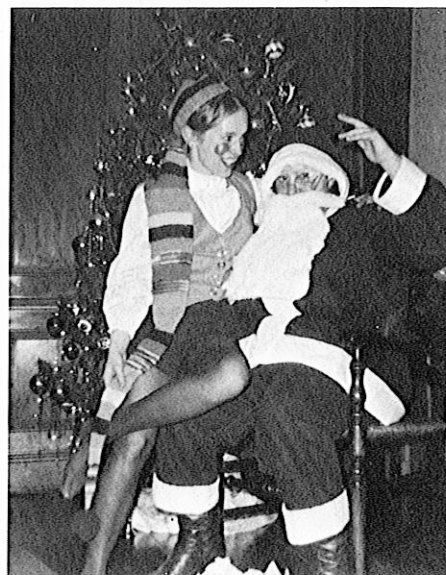

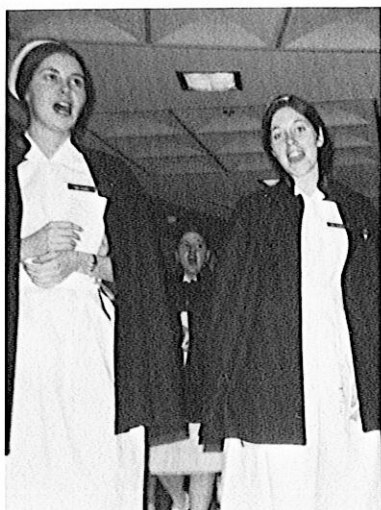

Young at hearts, we smiled at first impressions of the year, our queasy stomachs in the O.R., the terror of code stats, the wonder of childbirth, the complexity of the QRS wave, the B/P's of the recovery room, and the nerve frazzling, heart-rendering world of Peds.

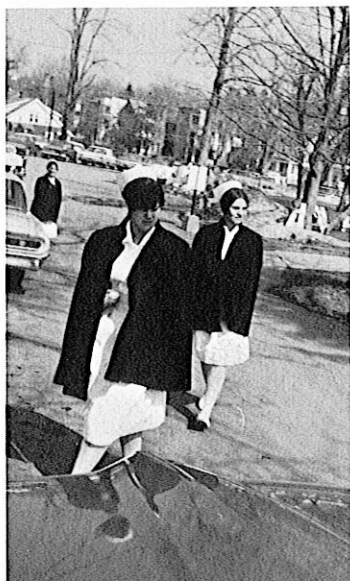

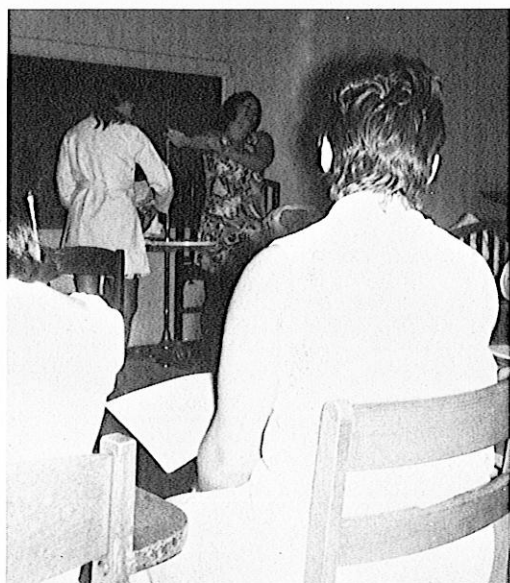

As the winter came, we put aside some of our dreams and turned our energies toward revving the motors of skidoos, making snow creatures, improving our basketball team, attempting to meet our curfew, and shopping and packing for a long awaited Christmas vacation.

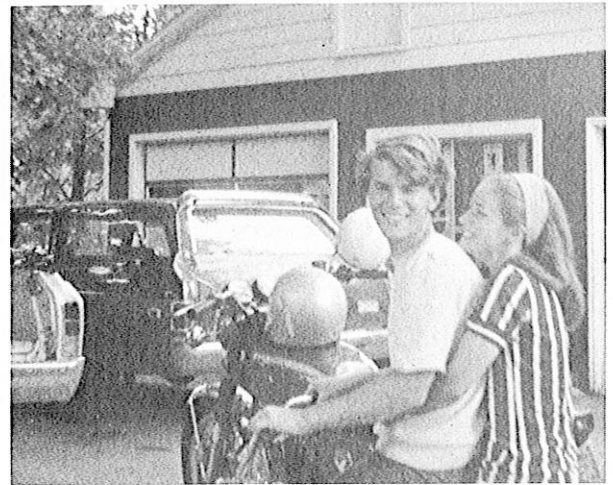

We stumbled into 1971 and realized how far we had come but yet, how far we had to go and no matter how we tried to keep our dreams and foresee our coming graduation, we were overwhelmed with the never ending stream of exams, care plans, early hours, note taking and the dreary desolation of winter.

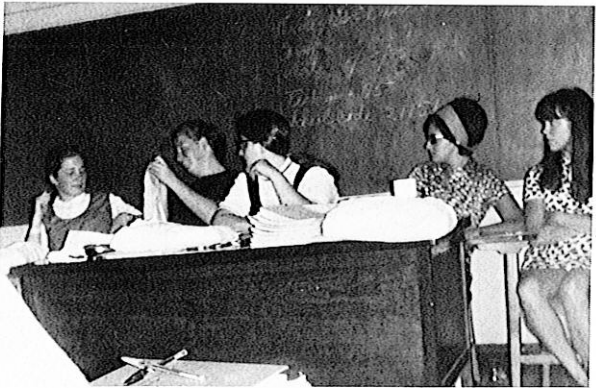

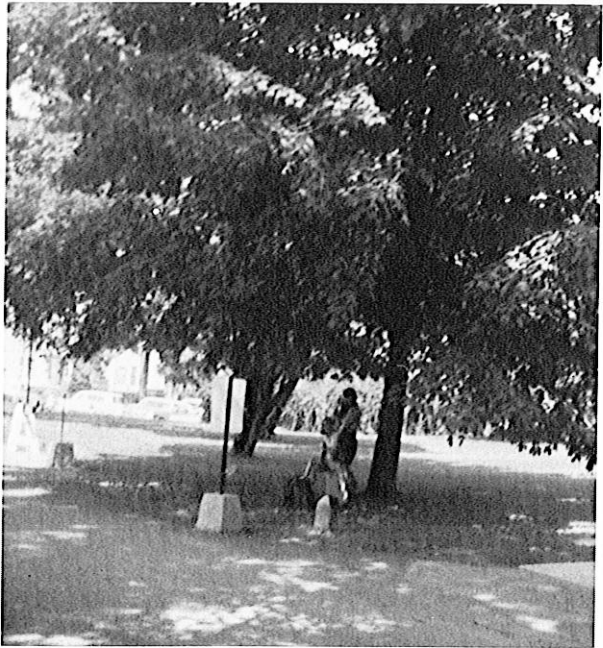

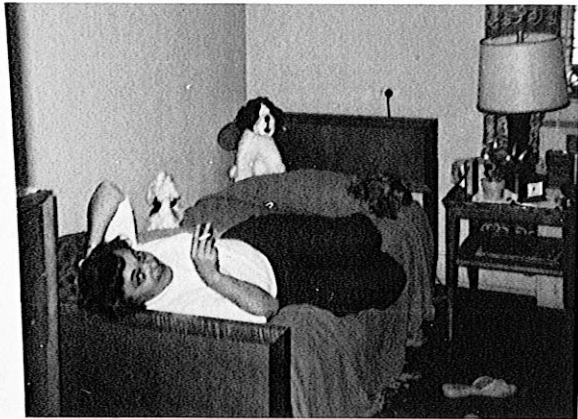

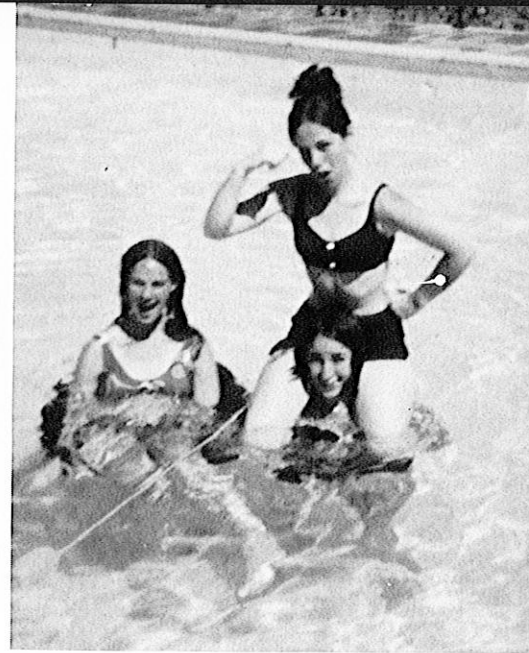

As the last signs of winter melted, we allowed our discouragements and disillusionments to melt also, and we joyfully shed our sweaters, ran barefoot, rode bicycles in the warm evenings, pulled dried dandelions and blew our dreams all over the yellow-green world joining nature in proclaiming: It's Spring—rejoice!

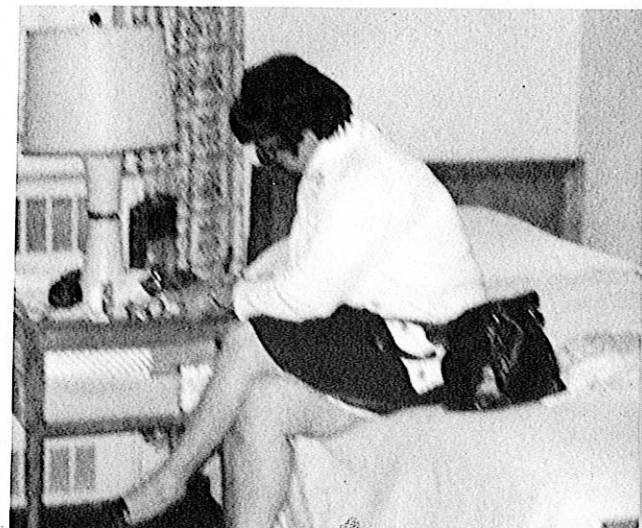

The hot, sleepless nights of summer soon enveloped us and we were all at once confronted with the fact that soon we would be on our own.

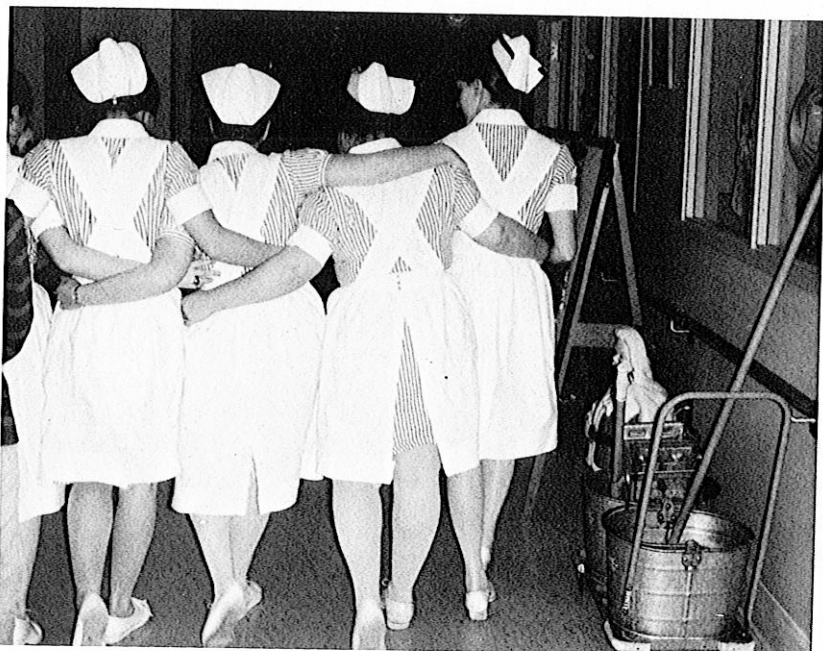

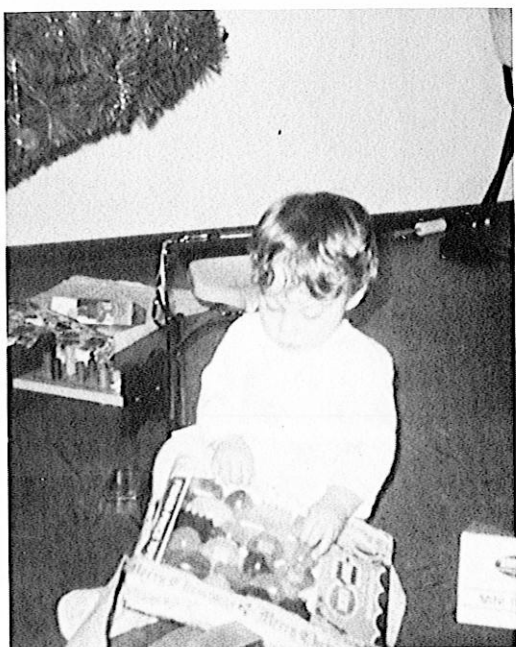

Past memories drifted away into cool lakes and the end of summer days. Still we kept those dreams, even when the days left were a mere matter of counting on both hands and the left foot of toes.

In every dream we found something:
something for each of us,
something for all of us together.

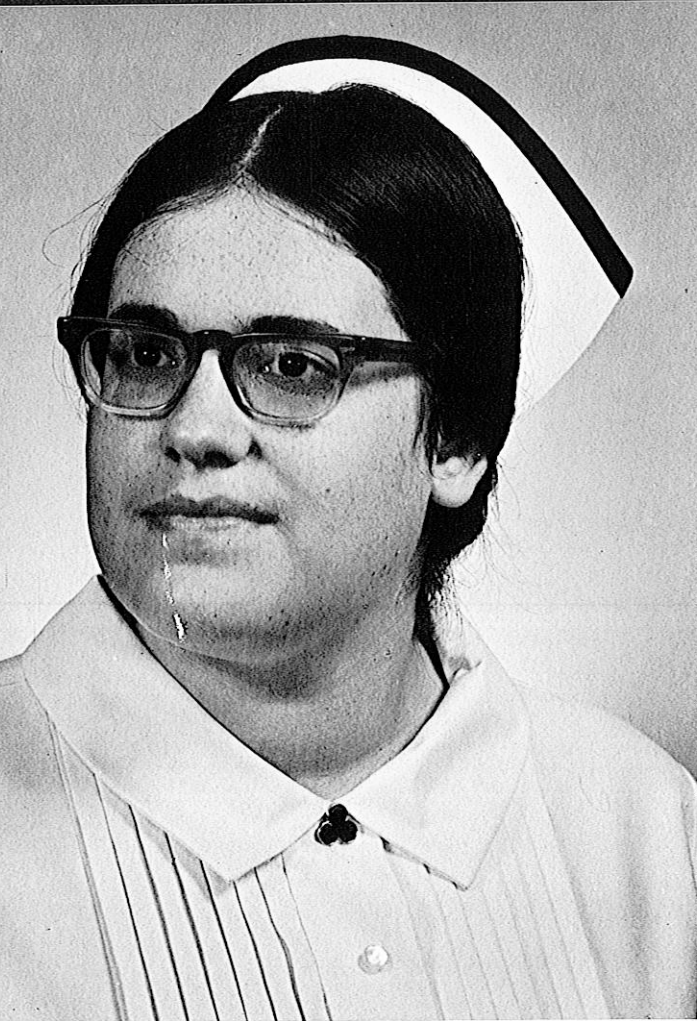

Beatrice A'Brial

Understand others as they are, not as you would like them to be.

unknown.

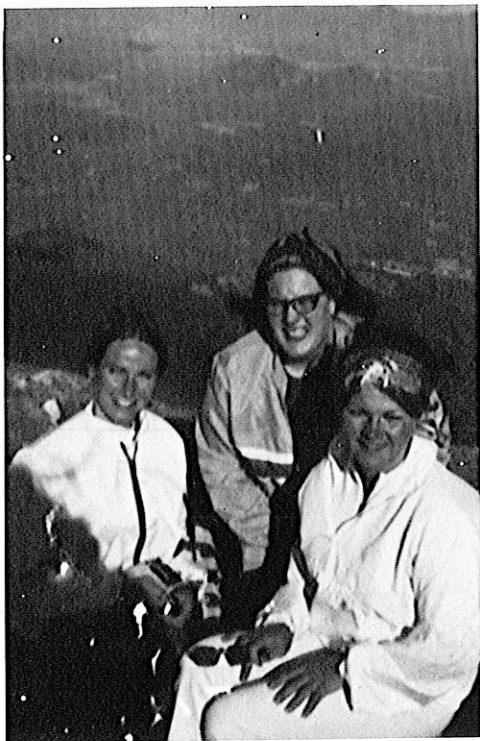

Our own straight—A Bea came from Red Hook, N.Y., to seek her fortune at V.B.H. She is our only grandmother, and if she didn't tell, no one would ever guess. She is known for her catastrophic closet, her passion for bed baths, bowling with Judy and Pam, puzzles, cold douses in hot showers and cottage cheese breaks in the E.R. After leaving these hallowed footpaths, Bea plans on working at the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston, N.Y. in the OR or the E.R.

Elsa Arnold

If you miss my happy face,
Around the halls of VBH
I'm croosing o'er the Hudson blue,
Traveling down Route 32.

Elsa, alias Essa, is the jolly student who is best known for heading home with Emma, her car. While here, she has accepted phone calls from Rifton, has been caught applying toothpaste to door knobs, getting showered by bedpan hoppers and explaining why her stick man is named Josephine. She enjoys children and wants to work a year at VBH. She then hopes to transfer to the medical center in Woodcrest, near her home in Rifton, New York.

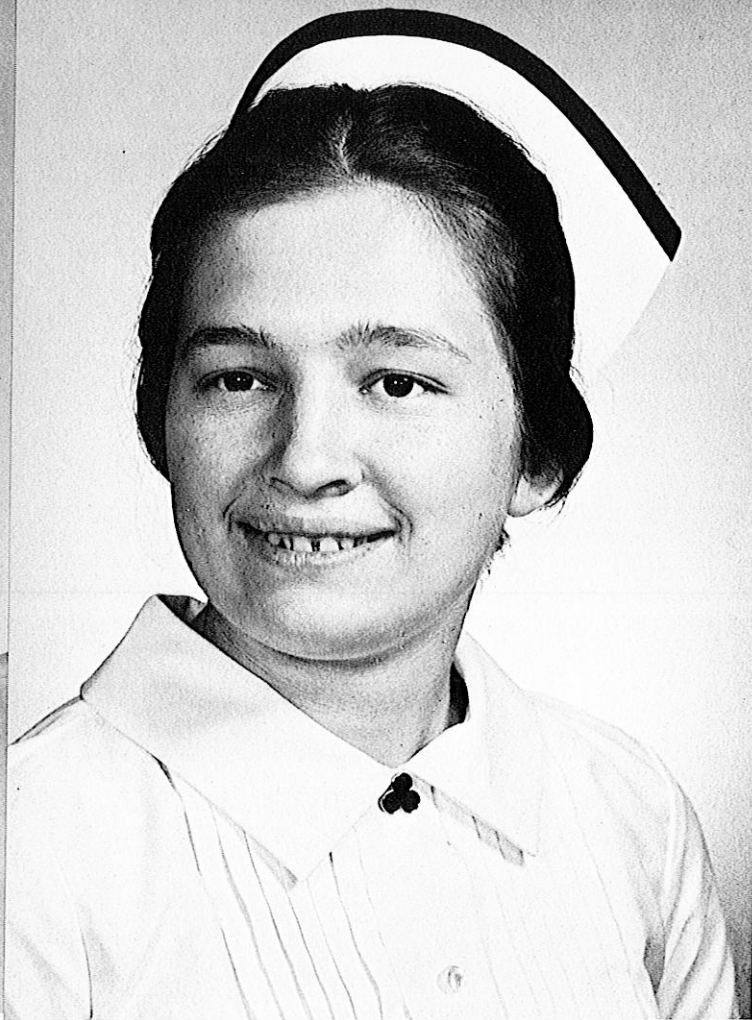

Marilyn Atkinson

A new day is breaking!
With joy we are awaiting
The world that lies before us
To build upon our fertile land

Unknown

"Melly" or Marilyn if you will, is a very handy person. After sleeping through psych classes, she spends her breaks hand stitching belts or working on some little project. She finally remembered to keep her mask up in the O.R. and found her leadership an experience. She likes Pediatrics and bedside nursing, especially T.L.C. in the form of back rubs. She expects to work at VBH for a year, then return home.

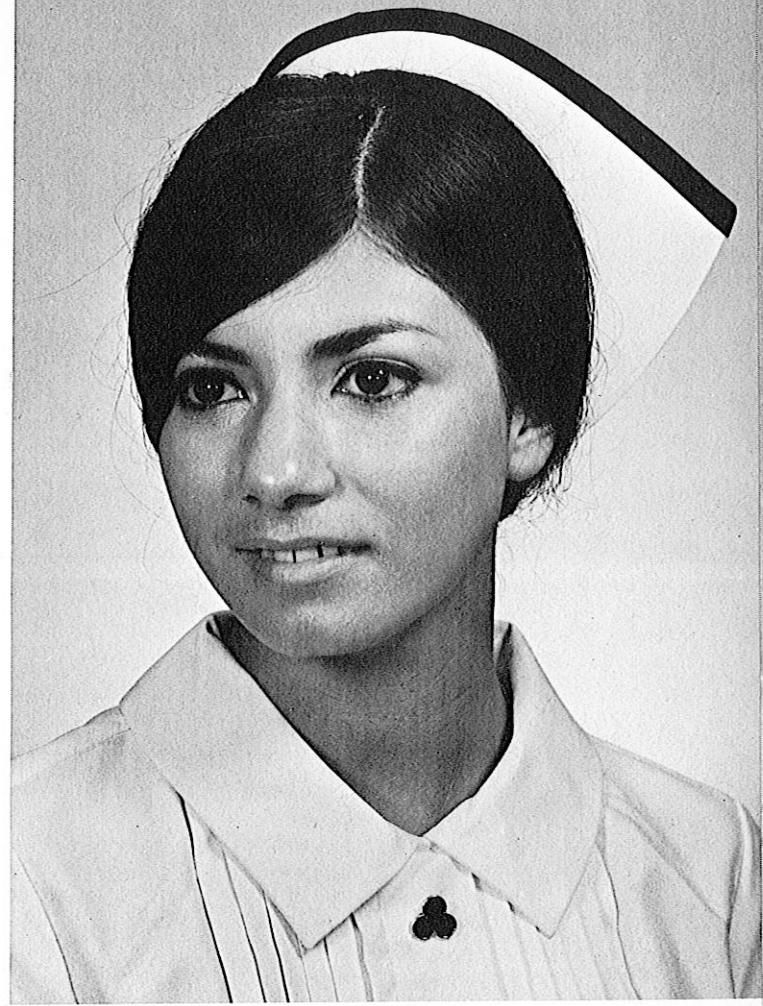

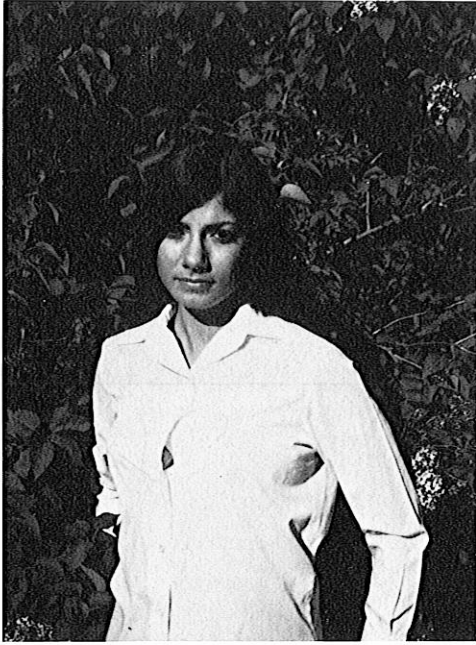

Eileen Barry

"The essentials of happiness are three: Something to do, someone to love, and something to hope for."

Anonymous

Eileen, better known as "Teenie" is VBH's own answer to Wilt Chamberlain. When she's not practicing her famous basketball shots, Eileen can be found about the dorm organizing a fire drill with a special "Barry" rope. Underneath the cool, calm exterior, Barry is, at times, a major instigator of many of the trials and tribulations of VBH. Awarded most valuable player at the end of VBH's basketball season, Barry plans to continue at VBH where we are confident she will maintain her high scoring.

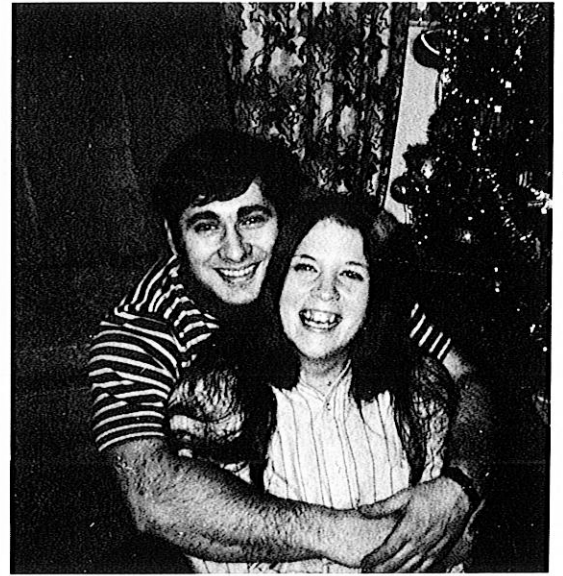

Diana Battillo

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

William Morrow

Diana Battillo, alias "Buns", is VBH's own "keeper of the money" for Student Government. When she's not sleeping, "Buns" is either planning another infamous trip to Washington, D.C., or indulging in the "spirits" whether at College Hill or River Front. Diana is known about the dorm for her intense fear of midgits, centipedes and pyromaniacs. After graduation Diana plans to stay on at VBH until she snags Mr. Right. Although "Buns" spent most of the basketball season warming the bench, it is certain that in the field of nursing, Diana will be a star player.

Deborah Birrittella

"To dream the impossible dream . . ." from Man of La Mancha

Debbi, better known about the dorm as "Bartalet" is one member of the Mafia who has managed to survive more disease entities in the past two years at VBH than Smith and Gips has published in the past twenty years. A major supporter of public telephones, Debbie is constantly conjuring up some money-making scheme to fly to Indiana. After graduation, Debbi plans to work at VBH while competing with Uncle Sam for her fiance, Michael.

Michelle Caggianelli

"God give me Sympathy and sense
And help me keep my courage high.
God give me calm and confidence
And, please, a twinkle in my eye."

Margaret Baily

A Mafia member, grapefruit juice, sex 92 and a winning smile are all a part of VBH's year-round Santa Claus, Shelly Caggianelli. Knitting, munching on ice cubes, and diagnosing cases for Dr. Gannon are her favorite pastimes. Shelly's plans for the future include OR nursing at VBH and marriage someday to that certain special someone.

Kathleen Campbell

He's not heavy
he's my brother . . .

Kathy journeyed two miles from home to join the class of 1971. Since then she has consumed enough "Campbell's" soup to keep the company from going bankrupt. Kathy kept the second floor busy trying to keep her social life from getting into a chaotic state. A hope chest was started . . . she'll hook her man yet! After graduation Kathy plans to work at V.B.H., and she also dreams of traveling to Scotland, the birthplace of her ancestors.

Barbara Coon

—and all urge is blind save when there is knowledge,
 —and all knowledge is vain save when there is work,
 —and all work is empty save when there is love,
 —and when you work with love you bend yourself to yourself,
 and to another, and to God.

Kahil Gibrian

“Mother Coon,” “Coon dog” or just plain “Coon” all refer to our very own medical librarian. “Where’s Coon?”— “I don’t know. Where’s Fran?” where one goes the other one follows. An industrious student, Barb’s always ready and willing to help anyone with their problems. A friend of every animal between here and Rhinebeck, Barb has collected a menagerie of 9 cats, 2 guinea pigs, 2 dogs, and a duck. She plans on working either at Vassar or the in area—loves the med—surg floor and I.C.U.

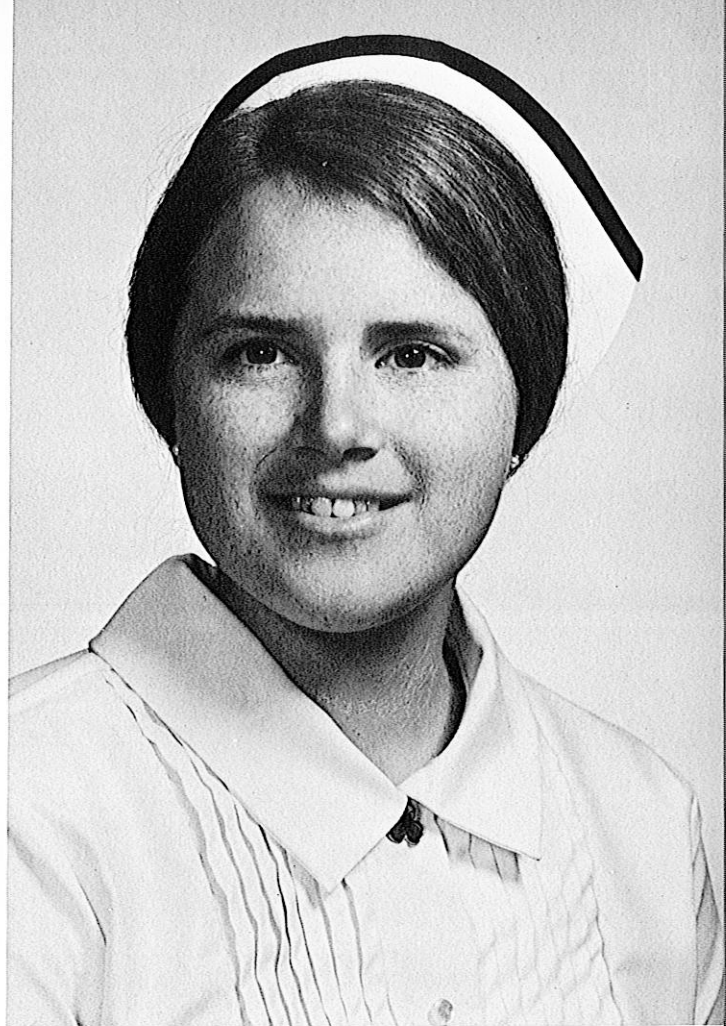

Rosemary Distefano

"The only true gift is a portion of thyself!"

Emerson

Rosemary, alias "Rosie Capone" is the godfather of VBH disguised as a hairdresser. When she's not doing the "Lindy" in the halls about the dorm, chances are that Rosie's zest for life has taken her to where the action is. Our Oscar nominee for "most diversified," Rosemary plans to continue at VBH while searching for that special someone.

Patricia Effinger

"Choose Life—only that and always and at whatever risk. To let life leak out, to let it wear away, but the mere passage of time, to withhold giving it and spreading it is to choose nothing."

Unknown

Is that the pitter-patter of little feet I hear coming up the stairs? No, it's none other than Pat Effinger, simply referred to by her friends as Effie. Being the eldest in a family of 9 she enjoys working with children and is looking forward to a job as a camp nurse after graduation.

Nancy Estes

"Let me not to the marriage of true minds admit impediments."

William Shakespeare

Little Nancy came here from Clinton Corners scraping the skies with all of her 4 feet 10 inches. During her two years of struggling to reach the thermometers on the top shelf she's had no trouble reaching those high grades. Nancy plans to stay on at VBH until she marries and show them that quantity and quality don't always go hand in hand.

Judith Gabriel

God helps those who help themselves.

When Judy isn't falling down bowling alleys, accidentally dying her underwear pink or scaring Pam out of her wits, she can probably be found with her head in her fish tank or talking to her "roommate." New Tower's biggest "borrower" of soda, she has hence acquired the nickname "Sponge." Her uniform usually consists of a green bathrobe san three buttons. For the time being, Judy is settling here at VBH with possible plans for further education.

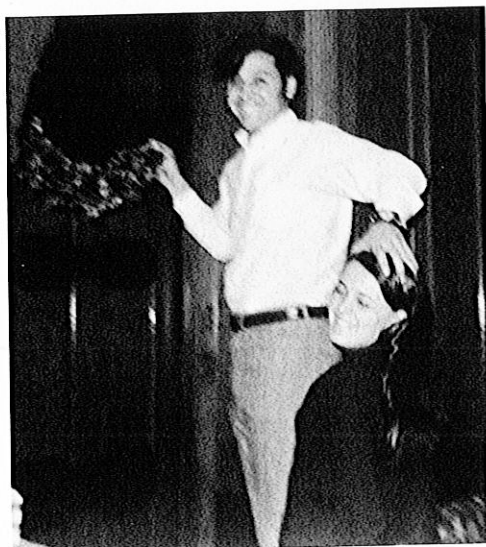

Nora Gay

"It is with life as with a play:
What matters is not how long it is,
but how good it is."

Seneca

Nora is an ex-OR technician who has devoted her life to medicine and teaching. We can remember Nora making her wedding gown, and her telephone calls from Boston. Engaged and married before anyone else, Nora plans on attending DCC full time while living in Poughkeepsie for the coming year. Her biggest dream . . . becoming a missionary with her husband Kim.

Carol Gordon

"Success is getting what you want; Happiness is wanting what you get."

Anonymous

"Gordie is quite a gal." When she is not attempting to improve her already meticulous room, she's rummaging through her plastic bags, looking for pieces of her collection of underwear. Some of Carol's pastimes are team leading on South Circle 5, washing hair pieces, and polishing a wooden leg. Among Carol's future plans is a possible engagement at graduation to a certain chiropractor and working in Queens. Carol is a friend who will surely never peter out.

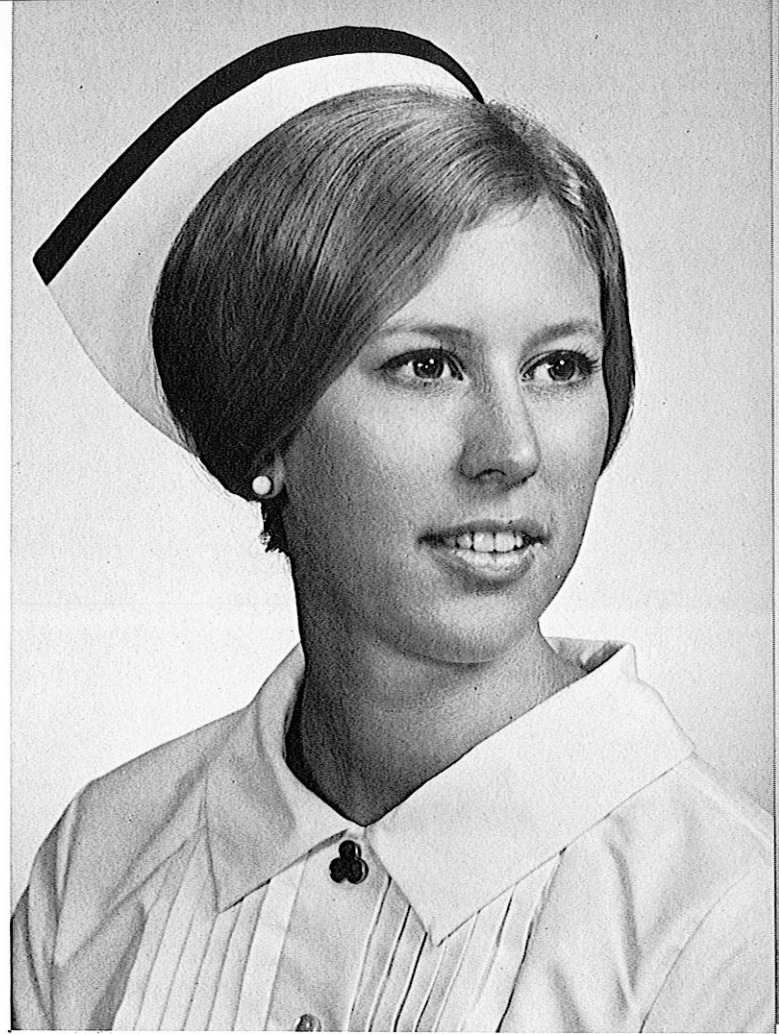

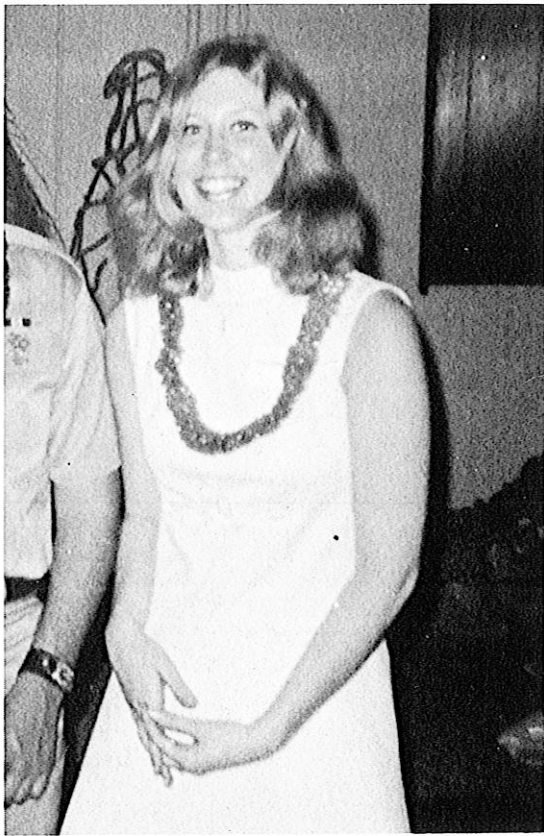

Pamela Hadnot

"I was gratified to be able to answer promptly, and I did, I said I didn't know."

Mark Twain

Pam, better known as "Pammy" believes all things can be cured by deep breathing. Pam can be remembered for her wild stories of evenings on Circle 5. Pam did not, would not, should not, could not, but would like to. Pam plans on working and living at VBH after graduation—the hospital will never be the same when one of the happiest and funniest nurses enters the wards.

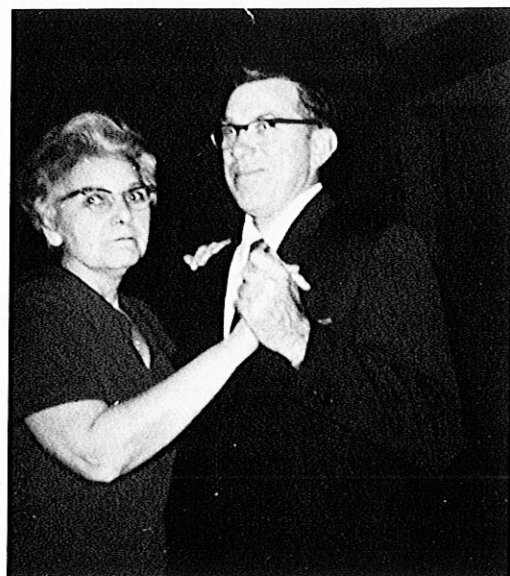

Wende Hamlin

We get from people what we give;
We find in them what we bring;
And changes are not changes in them so much as changes in ourselves.

Barton

Should anyone in the vicinity be heading for Buffalo, chances are you'll find Wende close behind. In her spare time this tall attractive blonde, manages to keep full her schedule with a part time job at a Nursing home, sewing, dating, and doging motor vehicles in addition to being our class treasurer. Wende, nicknamed Shroeder, for her infamous piano seranades will be leaving V.B.H. after graduation for one of Buffalo's local hospitals.

Barbara Johnson

"Strike hands with me, the glasses brim
the sun is on the heather and love is good and life is long and two are best together."

B.J. is one of the cheeriest people in the morning and is often found saying, "Let's go out, somebody!" She's known for her yogurt, hot room, plucking eyebrows, diets, and roses from her phantom lover. Even her graceful abilities on stairs got her a broken toe this year. Milk and toast are the cure for B.J.'s migraine headaches and her favorite people are policemen. B.J. plans on working either at VBH or Castle Point and going to school at D.C.C. With her sincerity, B.J. will be able to cure anyone's ailments.

Anna Maria King

"No bird soars too high if he soars with his own wings."
William Blake

Anna is one of the lucky girls, having had a military wedding at West Point, June 12th. Anna, with her black band and white uniform left us in April and plans to spend the next five years traveling. Between taking her Leebrium and special cereal, Anna may be found walking the walls, taking off for West Point, having her hair in a hundred braids, or finding her room decorated with toilet paper. Good Luck Anna, and may Ward and you have a hundred little generals.

Judith Gail Klopping

"Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
and that has made all the difference."

Robert Frost

Judy, also known as "Radar" in the OR, is found usually anywhere but the dorm. "Where's Judy?" is a familiar statement, but most of the time we can find her with Bill, her fiance. Judy, although being very busy, finds time for singing, playing with her rocks, throat irrigations, bumps on the head, and "Charlie" her motorcycle. Judy got married in August and plans on living in Clinton Corners, and working at VBH.

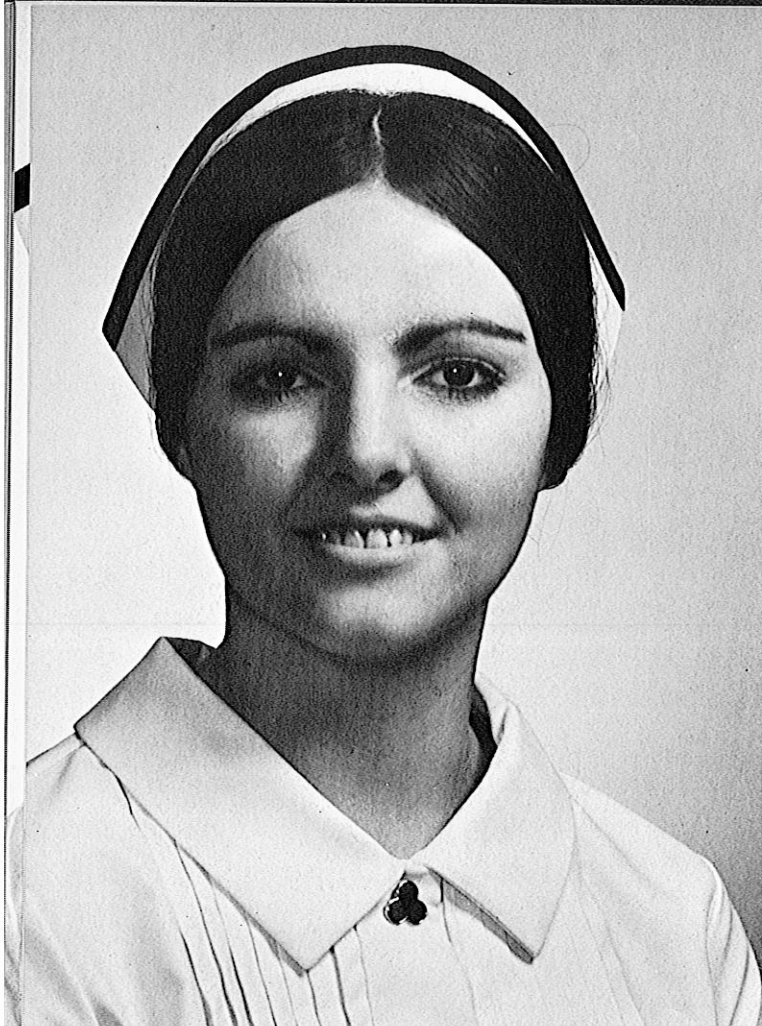

Mary Ellen Laboless

It has long been an axiom of mine that the little things are infinitely the most important.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

Claiming Croton as her home-ground, Mar came to us a quiet, retiring woman. Today, she is an outgoing, vivacious creature. Mary Ellen loves fluffernutters, banana icecream, Dutchess, a certain English professor and all the doctors. If given a choice of places in which she would like to work, the O.R. would be her first choice.

Jeanne McDonald

"Some men see things as they are and say why.
I dream things that never were and say why not."

Robert Kennedy

Jeanne is a hard worker (the E.R. on Saturdays) but also cherishes her sleep. She loves parties, digs the polka, and adores her giant toe poster. Who would think Jeanne would catch the chickenpox at 19? Since her engagement came at a time other than what was anticipated, Jeanne is not giving us a definite wedding date now. Before she marries Mike she will work in local Hudson, in the OR hopefully.

Stephanie McKittrick

Where is the wonder that years conceal that a child can feel now and then?
Where is the wonder of long ago that I'll never know again?

M. Barr

Disguised as a student nurse, Stephe seems to be more at home on stage where she shows endless talent in singing, dancing, and imitations. Cool, calm and collected she is not, especially when the name John is mentioned. Stephe plans on working at VBH and, if she ever finds her way out of Poughkeepsie, Ontario will be her next big step.

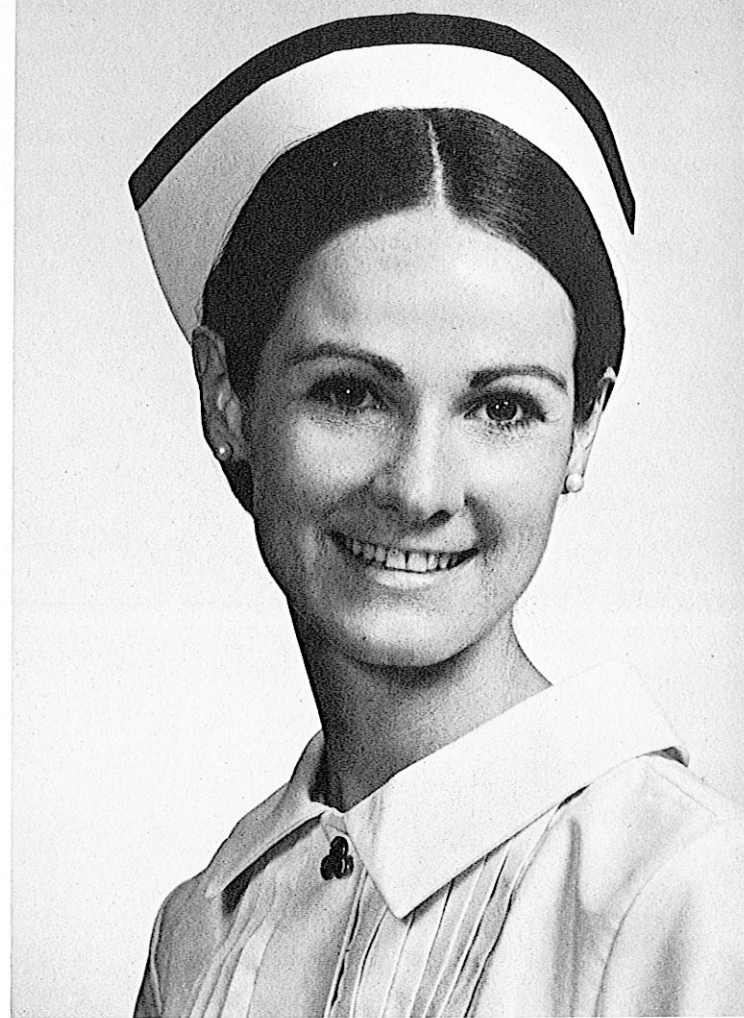

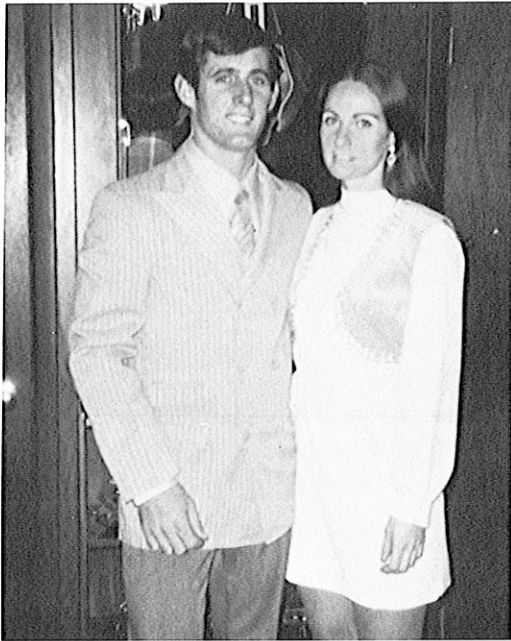

Patricia McLendon

... yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow is only a vision;
But today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

Sanskrit

Pati McLendon, alias "Rocco", is VHS's own nomination for the good Housekeeping award. Sewing, ceramics, crocheting and working on the yearbook are just a few of Pati's endless stream of projects. Her future plans include a New York hospital and marriage to a certain "hot dog loving" cop from Long Island.

Virginia Morrison

"Today is the first day of the rest of your life."

Unknown

Bright eyes and an ever present smile are all a part of this happy bundle of energy. While traveling from California to Memphis, Tennessee, Gingie still finds time to collect furniture, whip up a new dress and play chairman for our spaghetti dinner. Wedding bells ring for Gingie and Harold on September 25th and she will then work in some Long Island Hospital.

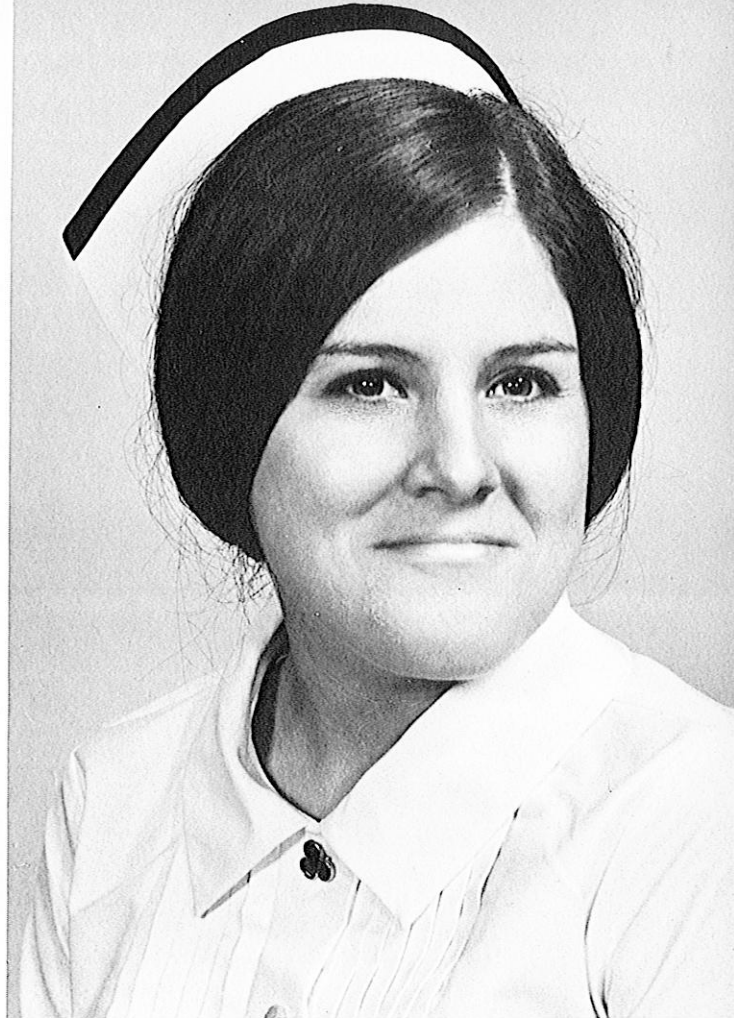

Katherine Mostrando

So my fantasy becomes reality,
And I must be what I must be and face tomorrow.

Simon and Garfunkle

Kathy, who also answers to chicken or george, enjoys dancing, her Monkey menagerie and finding out who Mona's kid really is. Potatoe chips are her trademark along with wearing love beads under her uniform. After graduation, George plans to stay at VBH, hopefully sharing an apartment with her ex-classmates.

Carol Perry

"Love means not ever having to say you're sorry."

Erich Segal

Carol ventured out of Newburgh to go through the mad cycles of dorm living where a can of Campbell's soup and "good grief" became her trademark. This quiet, but friendly girl married her West Point cadet in June and plans to travel south and work in Fort Benning after graduation.

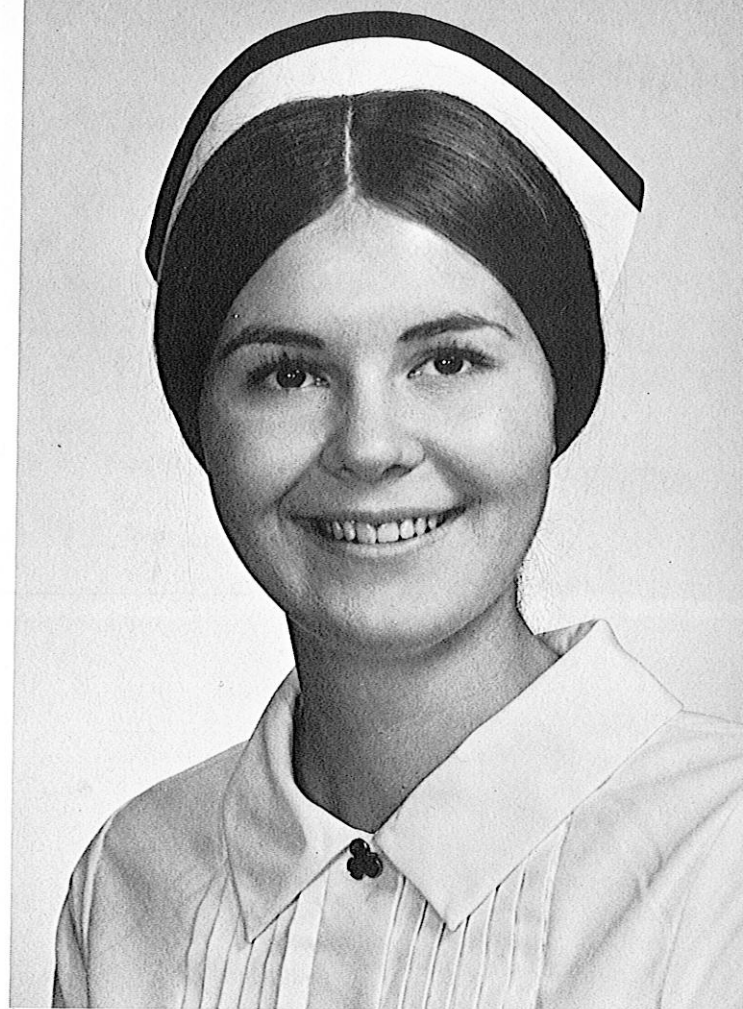

Margaret Pulichene

Life is mostly froth and bubble
Two things stand like stone,
Kindness is another's trouble,
Courage is your own.

Adam Lindsay Gordon

Maggie, a Mafia organizer for mass spaghetti dinners, likes fast bikes, the atmosphere at South End and her Budweiser shirt. Maggie dislikes homework, studying, coming in before midnight and Polywogs. After graduation, Maggie plans on working at VBH where we are certain to find her out "living it up" on her day off.

Denise Lynn Reif

Sometimes you need to be alone with yourself to put things back together again.

anonymous.

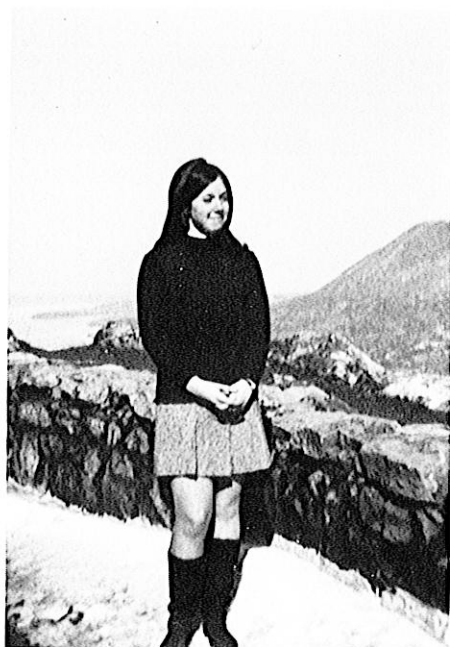

Miss Hope of N.Y. state is none other than our own Denny Reif. When she's not playing tutor to some white mouse, or foster parent to some stray kitten, chances are Denny's either got a date or is hiding in the Sitz bath. Managing our "School Store" was just another of Denny's many contributions to V.B.H. After graduation, Denny plans to remain at V.B.H. and continue her education. In any event, we are sure Miss Hope's enthusiasm and cheer will take her far.

Susan Reilly

Yesterday is experience
Tomorrow is hope
Today is getting from one to the other as best we can
Unknown

Susan Reilly, alias Brooklyn, can often be seen flashing her colors on the back of her boyfriend's bike, patronizing South End, or strumming her guitar. Following graduation, Sue plans to continue at VBH and start looking for a new blue Volkswagon to match the one that met its fate on a street corner of Poughkeepsie.

Janice Ann Rogers

It matters not what you are thought to be, but what you are.

Publilius Syrus

Jan left Staten Island four years ago to make her home in Kerhonkson (Did you ever hear of it?) and entered V.B.H. without any idea of what she was falling into. Always ready for a party, Jan still prefers working her stallion Sam, to blind dates. In her future plans we see her vacationing at Saranac Lake and working at V.B.H. or with retarded children. Which ever it is, we can be sure Jan will do it well.

Frances Rubino

"A smile costs naught and cheaper still is a cheery word well meant.
One thought of God to bless us all and our day will be content . . ."

Delavish

Our class prez, Fran was last seen searching the shores of Poughkeepsie to see if the Coasties were in. Known for burning the midnight oil, Fran always seems to get her work done. Fran's warm smile and bubbly-laughter will be a welcome sight at Putnam Community Hospital, near her home town, Mahopac.

Marcia Shultz

"Happiness comes of the capacity to feel deeply, to enjoy simply, to think freely, to risk life, to be needed."

Storm Jameson

"Shultzzy" is our little farm girl who enjoys horseback riding while waiting for Gary. She loves dozens of red roses, being our basketball co-captain and collecting corn cobs. We often find Shultz running around the dorm with few clothes on and bringing us goodies her mother, "the cook," has made. The Castle Point vets or Vermont will be might lucky to get Marcy.

Barbara Jean Sitler

"Love and Nature a fulfillment of one's self . . ."

Walter Rinder

Barb was always the one with the hardy appetite who never seemed to gain a pound. She had first hand experience helping to organize our talent show, wrestling with centipedes and babysitting for goldfish. She loves bagels, chocolate milk and opals with diamonds. After graduation she'll return home to work in a local L. I. hospital Emergency Room.

Lenore Marie Tierney

"Be life long or short its completeness depends on what it was lived for."

David Starr Jordon

Who is that towering figure in a blue shirt and jeans? Couldn't be . . . yes it is, "the toe masher," better known as Noree. Noree is noted for her last minute term papers and her collection of turtles. "You know something Shroeder, I think I hear bells for Noree on September 18th, and who cares how big his feet are, Tommy is the one." Northern Westchester will be Noree's place of employment until the babies start coming.

Nancy Lynn Travaglione

"A long life may not be good enough, but a good life is long enough."

Benjamin Franklin

A good worker and wise leader, Nancy has reached her first goal, her nursing diploma. Between M.C.ing our talent show, holding pre-test lectures until four A. M. and making plaster casts. Nancy still finds times for good grades. We will never forget the sexy nightgowns, the Travaglione trot and the tickler. Marriage, redhaired kids, and the nursery at VBH are Nancy's plans for the future.

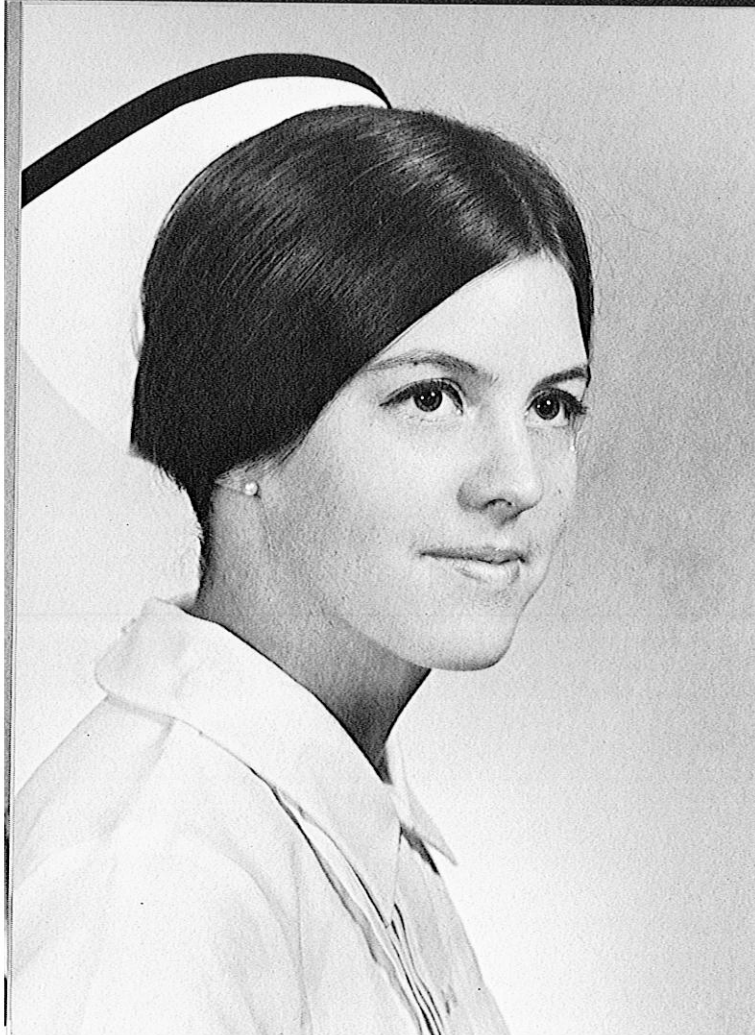

Judith Wilson

"When first I dreamed of how our love would be, so shallow was my dream, how could I see the whole great, matchless depth of ripened love? Can earthbound hearts envision Heaven above?"

Helen Lowrie Marshall

Looking forward to receiving her diploma at graduation, Mrs. Judy Wilson will also be celebrating her third wedding anniversary to Larry, a tympanist in the U.S.M.A. band at West Point. Future plans include further education and a B.S., traveling and nursing in obstetrics.

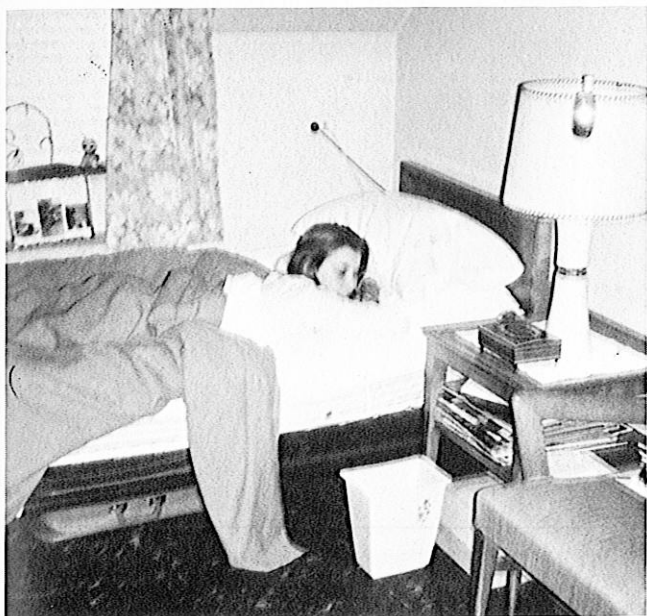

Linda Young

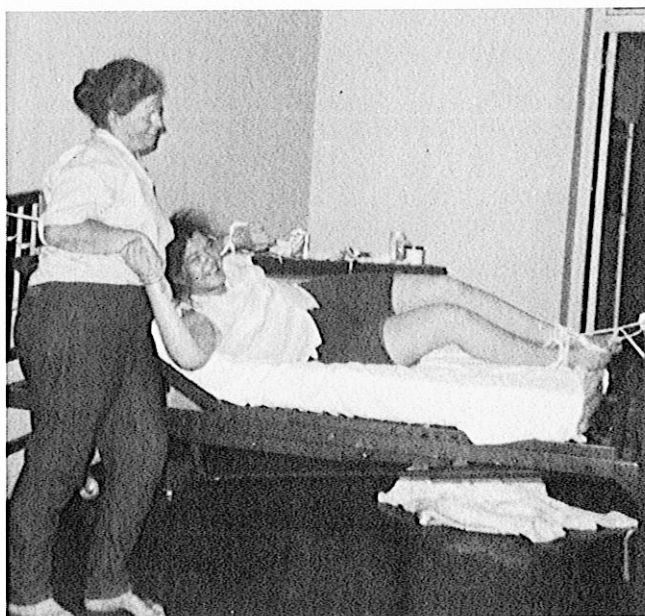

"yes the world is the best place of all for a lot of such things
... looking at everything smelling flowers and goosing statues
and even thinking"

Lawrence Ferlinghette

Did you say dinner? Between pressing her dinner dress, partying, skidooing, and playing nurse maid to a certain car salesman, Linda still managed to devote a large part of her time to editing the class yearbook. Her school life seemed to revolve around the expression, "there's always tomorrow." Luscious, as she is referred to on the basketball court, plans on working in N. Y. C. after graduation and getting a B.S. in psychology.

"Go away, Caggianelli, Mrs. Maza won't miss me".

"Okay—Time to get up."

"I should have danced all night".

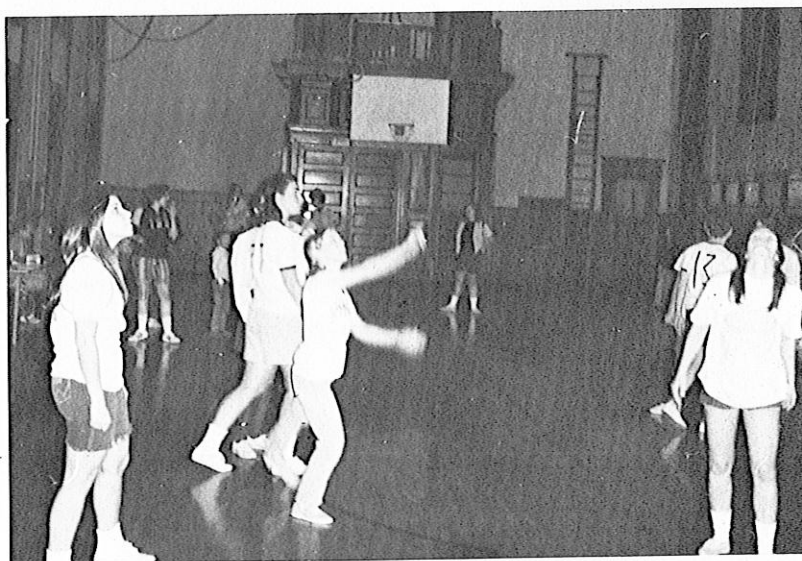

"Do you Really think So?"

In Memory of
Rachel McCrimmon

To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die.

Thomas Campbell

Do You Remember

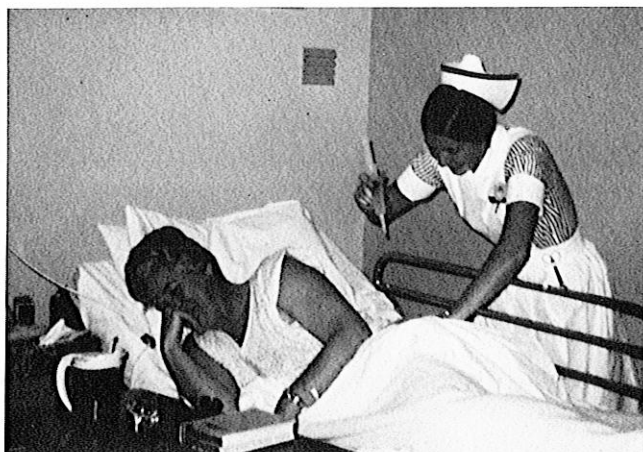

Linda cleaning her room?
 When Effinger couldn't think of anything to say?
 "Why don't you go ahead and . . ."?
 The basketball team winning?
 Paging Mr. Bili Rubin?
 Carol without plastic bags?
 The night John Duncan came home?
 Pam being bit in the recovery room?
 Oliver & the Professor?
 The night V.B.H. had Co-Ed dorms?

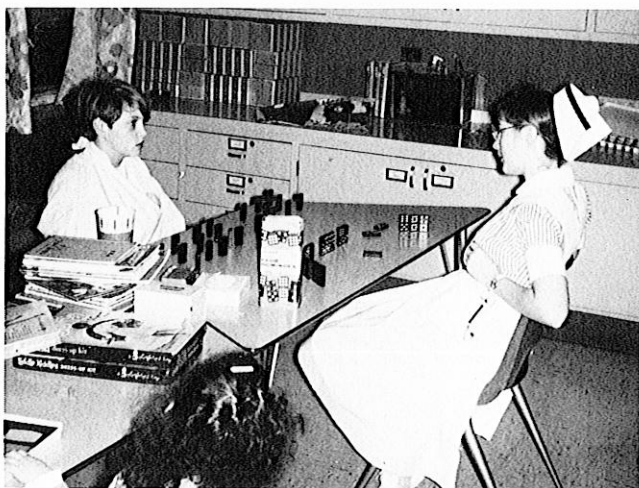

We shall now discuss family planning.

"Ready, Aim."

Is he a friend of yours?

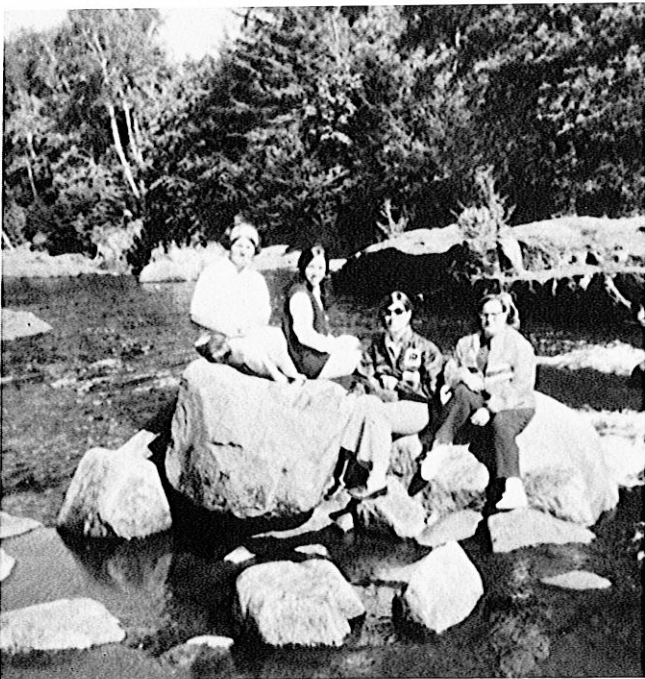

What do you mean, "Boy you're dumb."

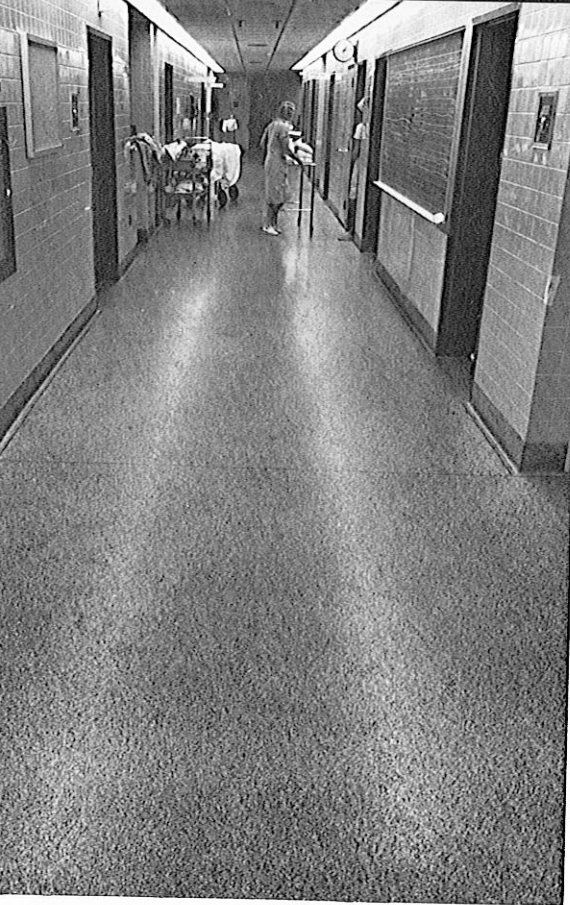

Do You Remember

Mrs. Bunting's story about the gypsies?
 Standing outside at 5 o'clock waiting for Squires to open.
 the seniors capping the freshmen.
 Shelly's T.V.
 down to the river for a swim.
 "Railroading" the picnic through?
 Mrs. Andress letting us out early?
 the awards at the Basketball Dinner?

It must be Yon Kipper.

M-M-M-M-good.

Sometimes I think it is all worth while.

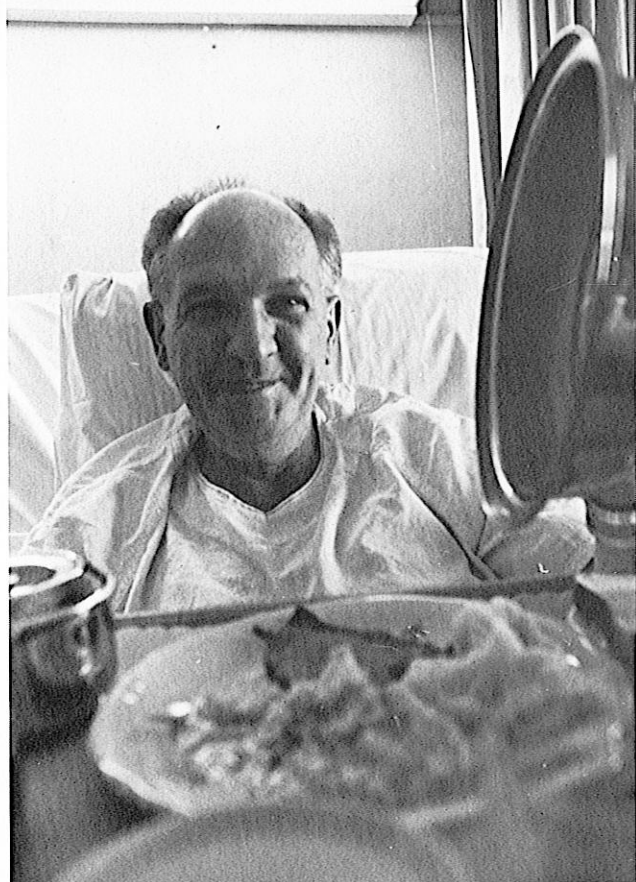

You know—we've got a lot in common.

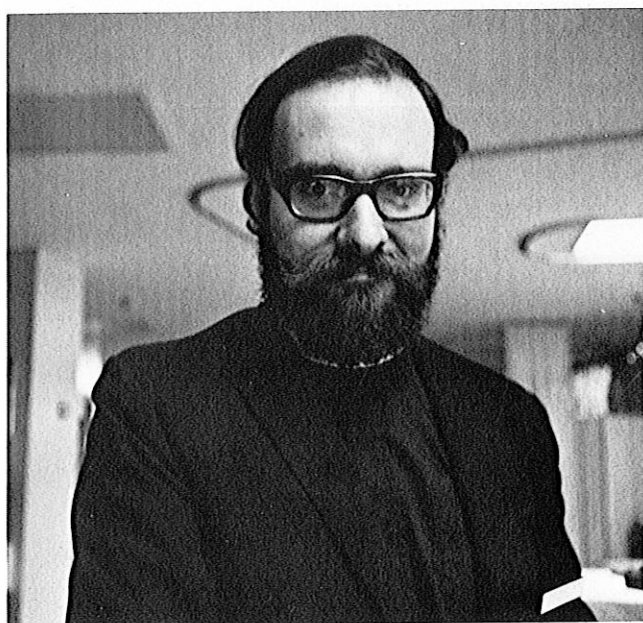

Wakey, Wakey time!

I told Miss France the wallpaper was cheap.

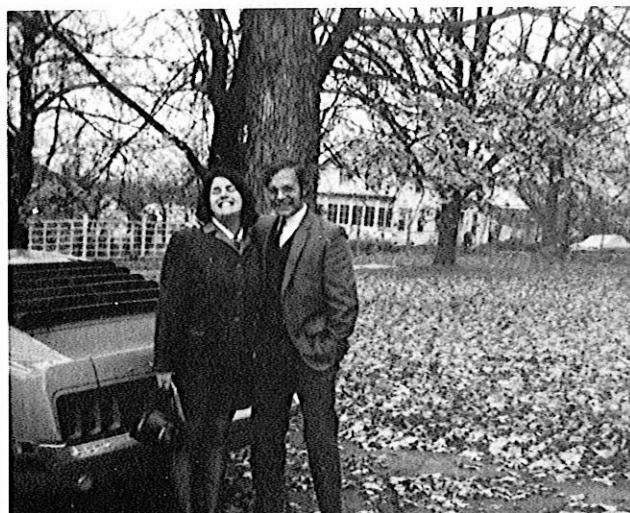

You've got to be kidding?

The Devil made me do it.

If you have any questions?

OOPS, thought you were Linda . . .

Just another nursing Lab experiment.

doesn't anyone want to dance?

Private Duty?

and I want.

Which way did he go.

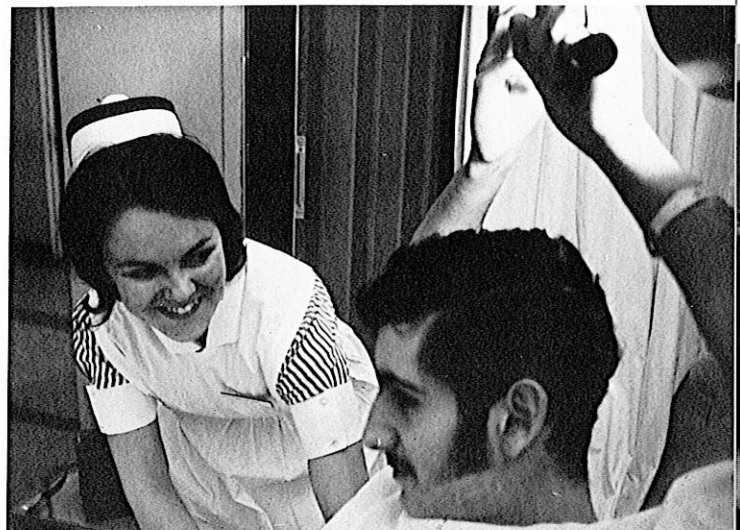

Look who's working in C.C.U.

What do you mean my time is up?

A little to the left please.

"Why me"

One less bell to answer . . .
One less Bed Bath to give . . .

Peace, we're prepared.

There's a dime in here somewhere.

"Les-be-friends"

Waiting for reviews.

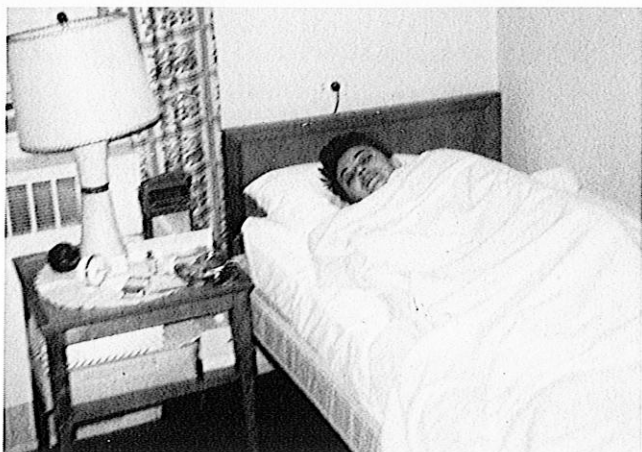

"Oh, but Doctor, I can't bring you that!"

"It's mine!"

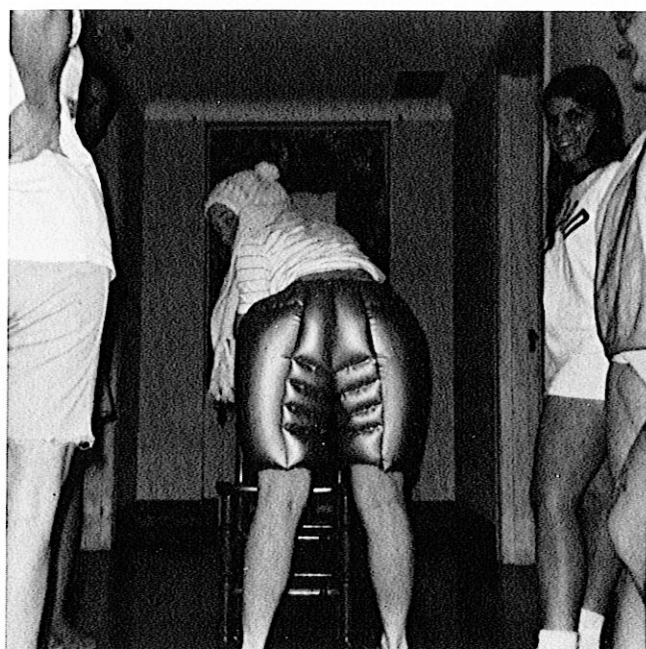

"Why don't you go ahead and . . ."

There's nothing like a V.B.H. girl.

"Oh! Do I have to have an enema?"

Frivolous Sal's; here we come.

We couldn't have left that Kelly clamp in that little hernia!

Only 93 more sewing days till Christmas!

"Doctor, do you remember the last time you yelled at us?"

What side effects?

We use Crest!

Do You Remember . . .

Moving from New Tower to Old Tower?
Our "Heavy" discussions?
454-0440?
Seniors capping the Freshman?
Do you know the way to L.S.?
Carol's wooden leg?
Hyde Park telephone booth (PAM)?
Shelley sitting on her knitting needle?
Rosemary's first beer?
Miss Mayhan coming to the third floor
Christmas party?

Do You Remember

Our last night in New Tower?

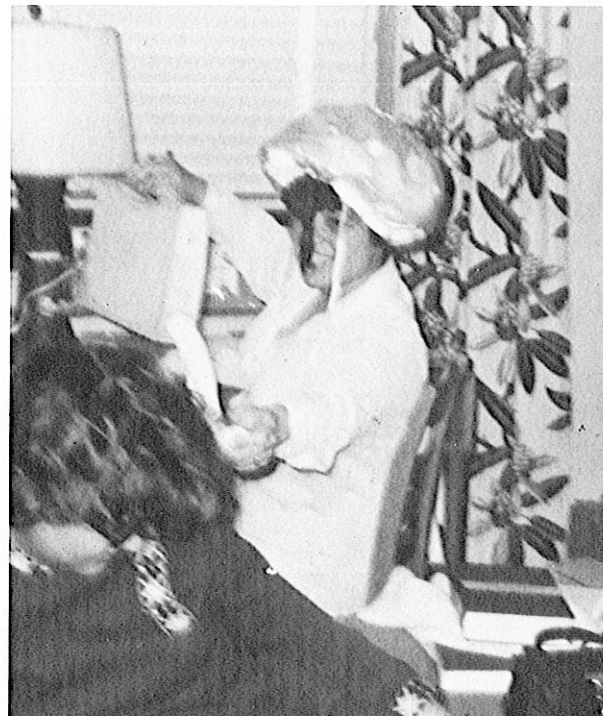

Linda's going out to dinner dress?

Rosemary's ulcer?

When the ship didn't come in?

"The renewal of societies and organizations can go forward only if someone cares. Apathy and lowered motivation are the most widely noted characteristics of a civilization on the downward path. Apathetic men accomplish nothing. Men who believe in nothing change nothing for the better. They renew nothing and heal no one, least of all themselves."
